

Important information

As indicated in the "Fund facts" section, a new strategy has been implemented within the Fund pursuant to a change of Fund manager. As a result, where historical information on the Fund may be misleading, it is, in the Management Company's opinion, more relevant to provide the investors with information on the strategy. In such case, this will be appropriately specified in this marketing document. Unless otherwise specified, data contained in this document are provided as at 2025.06.30.

Investment objective

The objective of this Sub-fund is to provide its investors with a long-term appreciation of their capital, principally by means of a diversified portfolio of investments in equity securities and other similar instruments of issuers of the United States of America that the Sub-Manager believes have significantly more appreciation potential than downside risk over the long term. Equity securities and other similar instruments in which the Sub-fund may invest include, but are not limited to, common and preferred stock of companies of all size, sector. The Sub-fund promotes environmental and social characteristics according to article 8 of the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 but does not have sustainable investment as its objective. The Sub-Manager believes that Environnemental, Social and Governance (ESG) consideration allows for long-term value creation, allowing to foster a positive change. The Fund is actively managed, and the Fund's manager's discretionary powers are not constrained by the index.

Market Review

U.S. treasury yields fell in June as the S&P 500 concluded its best quarter since 2023. U.S. equity markets rallied in anticipation of trade deal announcements with major trading partners and potential Federal Reserve interest rate cuts later in the year. Bloomberg's equal-weight Magnificent Seven index returned +6.1% in June, supporting the S&P 500 (+5.1%) and the outperformance of Russell 1000 Growth (+6.4%) vis-à-vis Value (+3.4%). As an indicator of prevailing sentiment, Goldman Sachs' "Bitcoin Sensitive", "Memes" and "Non-Profitable Tech" baskets rose +78%, +44% and +27%, respectively, in Q2.

Fund Review

In June, the fund returned +2.1% vs. +3.6% for the index, +3.4% for Russell 1000 Value Index and +5.1% for the S&P 500 Index. In Q2, the fund returned +2.4% vs. +1.7% for the Index, +3.79% for Russell 1000 Value and +10.94% for the S&P 500. Year-to-date, the fund is now up 6.2%, compared to +5.5% for the index, +6.0% for Russell 1000 Value and +6.2% for the S&P 500. At the stock level, the top June attribution relative contributors were Oracle (+0.96%), Microsoft (+0.27%), Brookfield Corporation (+0.18%), not owning Procter & Gamble (+0.16%), and Disney (+0.13%). The largest relative detractors were Visa (-0.28%), Adobe (-0.28%), Centene (-0.26%), Berkshire Hathaway (-0.22%) and U-Haul (-0.22%). At the sector level, the leaders in June were stock selection in Information Technology (+0.22%), Communication Services (+0.15%) and higher allocation to Consumer Staples (+0.12%). The leading laggards were stock selection in Financials (-1.24%), Industrials (-0.44%), and Materials (-0.21%). The largest portfolio new buys in Q2 included Hershey, Franco-Nevada and Adobe, while sales included Gentex. In the context of broad market concerns over both the US and global growth outlook, we remain confident in the fundamental prospects of our portfolio businesses. Weighted-average 2024 EPS growth for our holdings was +12% vs. -2% for the Russell 1000 Value and +7% for the S&P 500.

Outlook

Various risks call both the US economic outlook and broad equity valuations – which remain high in a historical context – into question. These include ongoing trade policy uncertainty and the questionable return on investment for elevated GenAI-related capex spend among mega-cap companies with high index weightings. Further, the fiscal outlook has come into focus amidst pending legislation. We seek to mitigate these risks by selecting companies with top quartile low earnings volatility, conservative balance sheets and high favorability to historical valuation ranges.
